The Ullemeyers of the Island City Merchants' league continued their winning streak last night at the Harms alleys, taking three straight from the Haeges, who gave them a close run in every frame. The Ullemeyers had but a margin of 10 pins in the first game.

At the Island City alleys the Flynn grabbed two out of three from the M. & S. team. Mosensfelder's men started out with a whirl, taking 569 in their first game, but they fell down woefully in the two finals, and the Flynn taking advantage of the slump, forged ahead. At Hastings' alleys the Bescos succeeded in taking two games from the M. & K. The M. & K. team took the first game, but could not keep the pace.

Johnson of the Flynn rolled high single game and tied Moose for the suit of clothes offered by Haeg. Johnson's 532 in three games also tied Wagoner of the M. & K. team for the headship cup, which gives them one-half point each. Mason of the Haeges is still in the lead for the cup. The scores:

MAROONS SELECT JACKSON CAPTAIN

Star Tackle of Chicago University Football Team Chosen Leader for Next Year.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—"Red" Philbrick Jackson was elected captain of the University of Chicago football team for next year at an election yesterday afternoon. "C" men on this year's team were eligible for voting. Jackson won on the second ballot. Walter Schafer ran second, and Kitty Gordon was third on the second vote.

Jackson has played right tackle on the Maroon team for two years and has been one of the most reliable linemen that ever played for Stagg. He is the smashing type of player who fights in every game and is absolutely lacking in "artistic temperament." He made the team in his sophomore year and has played in every game for two seasons as a running mate of Spike Shull, Stagg's other tackle. Jackson played prep football at Evanston academy.

The 20 players honored with "C" sweaters who voted in the election were Captain Russell, Jackson, Shull, Scanlon, Brodie, Redmon, Fisher, Whiting, Breslow, Foster, McConnell, Sparks, Gordon, Flood, Schafer, Norgren, Agar, Pershing, Dobson and Cahn. The varsity picture was taken after the election.

HEAD COACH QUILTS WEST POINT ELEVEN

West Point, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Lieutenant Charles D. Daly, U. S. A., who for the last three seasons has been head coach for the Army football team, will not act in that capacity next fall. He sails on Dec. 1 from San Francisco to join his command, the First regiment of field artillery, now on duty at Schofield, Honolulu.

Daly was captain of the Harvard football team in 1900. He entered the military academy in June, 1901, was graduated in 1905, and played on the Army eleven for the first two years of his stay here. The Army won from the Navy in both these years.

FULTON RING FREAK; HIS FACE FOOLS 'EM

Fred Fulton, the Rochester, Minn., giant who shortly will be called on to give Jess Willard a battle for the heavyweight championship of the world, is a unique character of the pugilistic game in addition to being one of the freak scrappers of the sport. Fulton used to be a blacksmith before Mike Collins, the Hudson, Wis., promoter, discovered and started him on the road to ring glory, and up in Rochester they tell many funny stories about his first performances with the gloves.

Despite his great size Fulton is just the sort of person that people like to pick on. He is a big, innocent looking chap who might be called gawky without expressing the term incorrectly. His face has not been all punched up and knocked out of shape and he doesn't carry the cauliflower ear that so many of the pugs are able to display as the trademark of their profession. In fact, no one to look at the Minnesota giant would get the impression that he is a fighter. He does not look vicious in the least, and if he fails to capture the championship it may be because he is not a vicious fighter, according to several of his friends.

DIFFER ON BACKS BUT NOT ON LINE

Critics Vary in Opinion On One Guard, Halves and Fullback for All-Western Eleven.

Critics in the west, in picking the all-western football team, differ very little on the personnel of the line, but in the backfield there is a greater variance of opinion.

For ends all seem to favor Boston of Minnesota and Chamberlain of Nebraska. Critics agree on Shull of Chicago and Buck of Wisconsin for tackles. There is no difference as to Dunnigan being placed on the first team for one guard, but the other guard position is not unanimously settled. Fitzgerald of Notre Dame is placed by some, but others of the experts award the position to Blocker of Purdue. All agree that Watson of Illinois should be given the center position and Russell of Chicago is unanimous choice for quarterback.

Bierman is given a position in the back field, but the critics disagree as to where he should be placed, some putting him at a half and others at fullback. The other two back positions bring differences among the experts. Macomber and Hallstrom, both of Illinois, Rutherford of Nebraska and Bierman of Minnesota, being mentioned as deserving of the honors at fullback or halfback.

HISS WILLARD WHEN HE KNOCKS AT SHOW

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 1.—That the world hates a "knocker" was demonstrated Monday night, when 2,000 theatergoers showed their displeasure by hissing Jess Willard at the Orpheum theater.

A strong man in the midst of his sketch requested ten men to step upon the stage and examine the chains he was about to break. Several complied and the actor announced: "I need one more gentleman. Will Jess Willard, our champion, step to the stage?" Willard replied: "Give me the same wages you pay those other fellows and I'll come down," adding gruffly: "G'wan with your act."

The audience hissed. The actor was roundly cheered when he told Jess: "I'll be in the spotlight when you are in the discard."

VETERAN BEATEN BY HOOSIER PUG

New York, Dec. 1.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis outfought the veteran Jim Flynn in every one of the 10 rounds of the windup at the Broadway Sporting club last night. Flynn was outpointed, and outfought, but never outgamed, and sent every one home satisfied that he had had his money's worth.

The ancient fireman of Pueblo may be perhaps but a shell of his former self, but he is still able to take just about twice as much punishment as any other three white heavyweights extant. The story of any one found would describe the fight, although Flynn seemed to improve by comparison. Dillon tired some, but Jim never. Flynn was shaken hard by Dillon's well placed rights and lefts in every session. He winced at times before Dillon's terrific bombardment to the body, but every minute's rest brought him back fresh and strong.

Outboxed throughout, Flynn never faltered, but kept carrying the fight to the Indianapolis light heavyweight, even when he was groggy on his underpinning. Flynn was faulty on distance and slow in his delivery. Dillon had no difficulty either in finding the mark at long range or blocking Flynn's leads. But half the time the men stood head to head and slugged at close quarters. Dillon was the cleverer at infighting. He was quicker to take an opening and covered much better.

Several times Flynn landed with his right haymaker. A hundred times Dillon connected with lefts and rights. Half of them were wicked enough to puncture an ordinary jaw, but only once did Flynn go down.

In the ninth round, as Dillon landed a light right, Jim slipped and went to his hands and knees. He was up in a second. At the close of every round, however, he was wobbly.

SAYS FOOTBALL IS GROWING UNCERTAIN

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—That Fielding H. Yost is right in his contention that the smaller colleges will soon be on an equal footing with the larger ones in football is the opinion of Dr. W. L. Williams of the University of Minnesota. The leader of the Gophers frankly expressed his ideas along this line.

"Football is more uncertain than ever," said Dr. Williams. "Any one talking about odds on one team or another before a game is foolish. It is no longer a question of size. It is up to 11 men on the field, and a small college is just as likely to put a strong team in the field as a bigger one."

"The forward passing has been largely responsible for the uncertainty. A pass is made and by skill, design or luck, a touchdown is in sight. Sometimes the strongest team in the country is helpless before a well oiled attack of that kind. Then a lucky kick or a disastrous fumble and the chances are evened up."

The question of a kick after a touchdown was brought up. Dr. Williams had previously expressed himself in favor of the kick. It was suggested that a kick from scrimmage would be more equitable. The coach said that it was a mighty good suggestion.

PLAYERS AGREE TO SPEED UP BASEBALL

Plans are already being formulated by the officers of the Baseball Players' fraternity to make the big league games faster next season.

President Fultz of the fraternity issued a very sensible appeal to the members along that line in the middle of the present campaign. He pointed out that baseball was experiencing a lean year, and would probably have another in 1916, because of the European war and unsettled business conditions.

He urged that the players move to and from their positions between innings on the run, cause no needless delays in batting, and otherwise perize the pastime, so to speak, in order to make it as attractive, and, therefore, as profitable, as possible.

For a while Fultz's words bore fruit but recently games of few runs have been extending from two hours to two hours and a half, because of the dilatory and lackadaisical tactics of the performers. The fraternity has taken up the subject again, and may recommend drastic legislation by the powers of baseball in order to spur the lazy athletes to a more seemly activity.

DODGERS FORGING AHEAD IN LEAGUE

NEW YORKER NAMED CAPTAIN ELI TEAM

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 1.—Clinton R. Black of New York City, a junior in the Sheffield Scientific school, was unanimously elected captain of the Yale football team at the annual banquet of the players last night. Black played guard on this fall's eleven.

OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON AT AUGIE

Inter-Department Tourney Is Scheduled to be Started Tomorrow and Interest Is Seen.

TWO GAMES ARE ARRANGED

College Quintet Will Take on Commercial Team While Seminars Meet Academics.

Basketball again begins to thrive at Augustana tomorrow when the annual inter-department tourney will be started. Interest in the leading indoor college sport is on the boom, and it is expected the tourney of this week will be a big drawing card. The first game of the tourney will be between the College and the Commercial teams, the Seminars attacking the Academics in the second tilt. The second session of the schedule will be held Saturday night when College and Academy meet and the Sem and Commercial clash. The big night of the tournament will be the following Wednesday when the two most promising teams are matched—the Sem and the Collegians. Both teams are set for the struggle, but it would appear that the dope favors the undergraduates. The Pastors boast their strength in view of the fact that Paul Anderson of former Augustana five fame, will be seen in the fray and around him their offensive is built. On the final night of the tourney, the Academics also battle the Commercial.

Squad Reduced.

The squad of the Augustana first team was reduced the first of the week, and the green material was relegated to the second string. Fifteen promising candidates are still retained with the varsity, and work will take definite shape from now until the first inter-collegiate game, scheduled for Jan. 8. Taken as a whole, Connie's squad shows much material, and big year is in store for Augustana, say the followers of the five. Those who survived the first wedding of the varsity garden arer: Art Swedberg, captain; Halmar Bergh, Edgar Johnson, R. Carlson, E. Lundberg, C. Samuelson, F. Reeves, P. Dahlen, E. Palmer, R. Palmer, F. Johnson, W. Holmgren, E. Nelson, G. L. Carlson and David Anderson.

Connie is trying to arrange a game with the Davenport Y. M. C. A. team for Dec. 11, and probably on that date the Collegians will be seen in the first tilt of the 1916-17 season.

SPLINTERS OF SPORT

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 1.—Eddie Mallan, captain of the Harvard football team, said last night that he would not consider any offer to coach a football team until he finished his course of studies here next June. Friends of the Crimson leader said he had received several proposals from colleges, but was treating all alike at the present time.

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Al Wolgast, former lightweight champion, struck a snag when he met Jimmy Murphy, a local fighter and a comparative novice, Monday night at the Olympia. Murphy let loose 42 centimeters and for a while it was thought Wolgast was tickered for stammerhead. At the end of the six rounds experts gave Murphy the decision by a shade, claiming he outfought Wolgast in four of the sessions.

Oliphant, the former Purdue university star, was the hero of the Army-Navy football game last Saturday. He scored all the cadets' points—two touchdowns and two goals.

DON'T SUFFER WITH WINTER ECZEMA

This irritating and exasperating malady can be relieved with S. S. S.

Winter Eczema, sometimes called TETTER, is one of the many varieties of the irritating and tormenting disease known as Eczema. A deep-seated blood disease that is so often confused as a Skin Disease. Don't think that you can rid yourself of it by washing with medicated soaps or medicated lotions. You will save both your time and money by leaving them alone. Winter Eczema is seemingly dead during the hot months, but with the advent of cold weather it comes to life with renewed vigor. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning is at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles, leaving the skin raw and inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to the acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves nor anything else applied to the surface cannot possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain. It is the acids thrown off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness. S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood of all irritating substances and humors, and does it promptly and effectually. Beware of imitations—refuse substitutes. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the unsightly eruptions heal, the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear. Get S. S. S. from your druggist, and write for our special book on skin diseases—free. Write the Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 17, Atlanta, Ga.
